DETAILED ACTION

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 11 and 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujiyoshi(6,211,854B1) in view of Ueda et al(4,824,106).

Fujiyoshi discloses a computer for displaying images on a screen of a display device comprising a video detection means(11), a transmission portion(6-9, 12-13) and a display(5) which all function as claimed. Fujiyoshi substantially show all the features of the above claims except for the "table indicating a relationship between a file name of a program for generating a video signal and the video type signal. However, Ueda et al is cited to show that the concept of utilizing a table(12-2 and 12-41) for generating a video type signal in processing of video signal in a computer display device is old. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the system of Fujiyoshi with the above noted teachings of Ueda et al such that to utilize a table for indicating a relationship between a file name of a program for generating a video type signal and the video detection circuit(11) refers to the table for generating the video type signal as opposed to the comparator(15) because they are both alternative equivalent of each other which functionally perform the same function and are well within the purview of one of skilled in the art.

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11 and 13-14 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

- 4. Claims 2-5, 7 and 10 are allowed.
- 5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Moeller et al is cited to show that how well known is the concept of utilizing a table for indicating a relationship between a file name of a program for generating a video signal and the video type signal in a computer display device.
- 6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
